The UnFluffy lounge chair by Fredrik A. Kayser is characterized by its sloping armrests leaning you into a welcoming embrace. This is the more versatile sibling of the Fluffy lounge chair. Kayser graduated from National Academy of Craft and Art Industry back in 1945 and the lounge chair was designed while being employed at Rastad & Relling Tegnekontor. It combines both art and function into one, a floating cloud of fluffiness that builds on the past for the present. This is a brand-new species that can live anywhere!
